POSTER SESSIONS

Poster viewing sessions will be held during the lunch and coffee breaks of the programme.

SATELLITE SYMPOSIA

Six time slots will be reserved for industry-sponsored satellite symposia.

IOF YOUNG INVESTIGATOR MENTORING PROGRAMME

Selected authors aged 40 or younger who have submitted top ranking abstracts will be invited to participate in a hands-on one-day course led by leading experts. The aim is to enhance the young researchers' skills, and when possible, help them develop a future study or trial.

IOF YOUNG INVESTIGATOR AWARD

IOF is dedicated to advancing scientific knowledge on osteoporosis, and in particular to encouraging young researchers in all parts of the world to focus on this important area of research. As a sign of this commitment, IOF is offering IOF Young Investigator Awards to the presenting authors (40 years of age or younger at the time of the Meeting) of the top five ranking abstracts submitted to the 4th Asia-Pacific Osteoporosis Meeting. The recipients will be awarded US$1000 and will be invited to present their work at a special session on December 15, 2013.
